Steamer Foote, of the Carter's Creek Fertilizer works, went to Crisfield, Md., Saturday night, returning Sunday with Mrs. Lauretta Fluhrat, who was sent forth to attend the bedside of her ill mother, Mrs. Sarah Bryant.

Several little girls of the village, all under ten years of age, arranged for and rendered on Wednesday afternoon at Dr. Geo. H. Oliver's home a very interesting entertainment. Over $8 dollars was realized which will be sent to the sufferers in China.

E. B. Hawks, of the Hawks-Maupin Co., Portsmouth, Va., arrived one day last week, bringing a handsome automobile with him in which he proposed making trips through the Southside and Northern Neck. After the first day's experience Mr. Hawks stabled his fine machine and hired a team. So much for sand and mud roads.

Our people sympathize with editor Morgan, of the News, who recently lost by fire his barn and stable, together with a large quantity of newly-mown hay. The origin of the fire was spontaneous combustion. Through the efforts of both white and colored Mr. Morgan's horses and vehicles and farming implements were saved. The loss will reach about $400.

No greater mistake can be made than to consider lightly the evidence of disease in your system. Don't take desperate chances on ordinary medicines. Use Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea.

36 cents. Tea or Tablets. R. M. Sanders, White Stone; Ellis C. Richardson, Kilmarnock.

MISS HAYDON'S RECEPTION.

A very pretty reception was given by Miss Ida Joe Haydon at her home on Tuesday evening in honor of her friend, Miss Florence Caldwell, of Philadelphia. The invitation cards read: "Reception; Tuesday; 8 p. m.—10 p. m." and as soon after the hour mentioned as was possible to keep from being "unfashionably early," the guests began to come. They were received at the door by Miss Annie Stoneham, of Molusk, who wore white point d'esprit over white taffeta and carried white roses. They were then presented by Miss Haydon to her friend, Miss Caldwell; Miss Haydon wearing white point d'esprit over blue taffeta and carrying daisies, and Miss Caldwell wearing a gown of the same material over pink taffeta and carrying daisies also.

After chatting in groups for a while in the reception room, which was tastefully decorated with daisies, Miss Haydon invited six of them to the dining room also decorated in daisies, where they were received by Mrs. Haydon dressed in black; Miss Kate Messick in white with daisies, and Miss Pauline Long in pink and pink roses who served the following repast: First, there were chicken salad sandwiches, olives and iced tea, then when that was finished, they brought the most delightful sherbet and cake. After that six had left six others went in, then six others, and so on until all the guests had been served. At ten they all departed, having spent a most enjoyable evening and pronouncing the reception "quite a success."

SOME BOAT NOTES.

Steamer Middlesex, of the Rappahannock route is being overhauled in Baltimore. The Westernland has taken her place on the river.

Passengers on the Philadelphia, of the American Line, which arrived at New York last week from Southampton and Cherbourg, told of a remarkable sunrise they had seen at sea. For more than an hour and a half they watched the steamship Lorraine, of the French Line, out of sight under the horizon ahead of them appear in the sky. The sight drew all of the passengers on deck, which was the most uncanny ever witnessed.

TO THE MEMORY OF MRS. DR. B. H. B. HUBBARD.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church has suffered a most trying and grievous loss in the death of our sister, Mrs. B. H. B. Hubbard, of White Stone, Lancaster County, Va. She loved the work and advancement of the Society, and was one of its most zealous workers. There was no duty too imposing, no call upon her time too great, no sacrifice too far-reaching, but she was always ready to meet with willing heart and hands; indeed, her heart throbbed in sympathy and love for those in far away heathen lands, who know not of God's mercies. Now that that heart has ceased to pulsate, and those active hands are motionless in the silent tomb, she is sadly missed. Ah! so sadly in this Society by those who loved her, and worked with her.

Although her illness was of short duration, her sufferings were intense. She fell asleep in Jesus' arms as calmly as a beautiful May morning and her spirit took its flight to the glory land, where she received the welcome plaudit, "Well done faithful follower of God." She is now basking in the sunlight of Heaven, wearing a starry, jeweled crown.

Her remains were laid to rest, and she now sweetly sleeps in the shade of White Stone M. E. church, in which she had so faithfully labored. Her grave will ever be kept green by a host of admiring friends and loved ones.

I shall ever cherish in my memory the fondest love for her and only wish it was my privilege to scatter the purest lilies on her grave emblematic of her purity, and our remembrance, as one cherished by all.

Mrs. Dr. H. W. HARDING.

By special request the above memorial, which was read at the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society on June 12th, at Reedville, Va., is published.
